

I live in a fairly isolated area and am limited to a choice of only 3 car/home radio stations. None of these stations provide me with the music or news that I have interest in. For this reason I fully support satellite radio and its quality and variety of programming. I only wish that it had been available to me and my family years ago. Our lives are definitely enhanced by having this choice!